File in One by One. Without Demonstration, on Promise of Bolt Cause Being Withdrawn

DENIED BY MAJORITY LEADER

Senator Nejdil Says Rebel Democrats Were Not Promised Anything Definitely

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27—With the fifteen rebel Democrats back in their seats, the state senate today plunged into its work after two days of idleness.

The bolting senators filed into the chamber one at a time for the morning session without any demonstration.

Lieutenant Governor Van Orman and James J. Nejdil, Republican floor leader, prepared to speed up the work of the senate and call up the appropriations bill for early consideration.

Nejdil asserted positively that no definite promise had been made the minority members that the Penrod "gerrymandering" bill, the cause of the bolt, would be withdrawn.

"Lieutenant Governor Van Orman and I promised the strikers immunity from arrest by the senate," Nejdil said. "They are already immune from arrest on any indictment until after the end of the session."

Walter Chambers, a Democratic spokesman, declared "ample assurance" had been given that the Penrod bill would not be pushed through.

"Any further move to advance the Penrod bill will precipitate another bolt," Chambers said.

D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, of Indiana, figured in the peace negotiations, it developed today.

Stephenson was in Dayton Thursday afternoon and held a long conference with Senator Cravens, Democratic floor leader in the senate, and Senator Harmon of Princeton, at the Miami hotel.

The two Democratic senators returned to the Gibbons hotel, headquarters of the strikers, and caucused with the other bolting senators.

Later Senators King and Easton conferred with Stephenson. Another caucus followed early in the evening and Cravens gave the word to return to Indianapolis.

The bus hearing the senators was followed out of Dayton by Stephenson's car. With Stephenson were Omer Hawkins, sheriff of Marion county, and Representative DeHaven of Indianapolis.

A rift was threatened in the ranks of the striking Democrats throughout Thursday afternoon, it was learned.

REASONS THOUGHT MORE PERSONAL THAN POLITICS

Although They Claimed Victory, Toothbrush May Have Figured in Democratic Senators' Return

ONLY ONE IN WHOLE PARTY

(By United Press)

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 27—Although they issued a formal statement saying they had won their fight, Dayton is not certain that reasons far more personal than politics were not behind the sudden withdrawal of the striking state senators from Indiana.

Late in the first day of their self-imposed exile, the Democratic minority began to show signs of relenting.

There was only one tooth brush in the group and everybody realized that it was not sufficient for an overnight party.

A state convention of traffic men grabbed all the desirable rooms in town before night and the senators confessed that to take lodging at the prices they were asking for inferior rooms would be beyond the means of $6 a day state office holders.

Added to these inconveniences, everybody in the party except Senator Crosby, who brought along his handbag, was wondering where the clean collars and shirts, if any, were coming from.

TWO SUITS FOR REPLEVIN

Rushville National Bank Plaintiff—
—Suit for Possession

Three court actions were filed today in Justice Stead's court, two being replevin suits and one a complaint for possession. In the replevin suits the Rushville National bank is plaintiff and Phillip Clark is defendant in one, and in the other Mertie Rose is defendant. In each case the suits involve notes purchased from the bankrupt firm of L. M. Meek, and the actions are to recover the goods involved. The demand in each case is for $25 judgment, and they will be heard March 2.

George Easley has filed suit against Emory Ratekin, the action being for possession of a house at 222 West street, and for $15 damages. The case has been set for March 5.

GLORIFIES MASONRY IN LODGE ADDRESS

Judge Arthur Robinson Shows Beneficent Influence it Had in Trying Days of Revolution

ITS EFFECT ON WASHINGTON

Manly Pearce Presented With Reversible Masonic Charm For Part in Acquiring Lodge Home

Masonry was glorified and the beneficent influence it has had on the development of the United States was pictured in an address by Judge Arthur Robinson of Indianapolis before Phoenix Lodge of this city Thursday evening, following a chicken dinner served by Martha Poe chapter No. 143, O. E. S.

The speaker also described Washington's leadership in Masonry and how he placed his confidence in Masons during the trying days of the republic's birth.

A reversible Masonic watch charm, emblematic of the degrees of Masonry, was presented to Manly Pearce by Amos Baxter, worshipful master of Phoenix lodge, as a small token of the lodge's appreciation for his part in clearing the debt on the Masonic temple and placing the second floor of the building in the possession of the lodge free of debt.

"We owe a deep debt of gratitude to one man," said Mr. Baxter, referring to Mr. Pearce, in presenting the charm, "and without his interest and leadership, the task could not have been accomplished."

Judge Will M. Sparks, in introducing Judge Robinson, complimented him highly, and Judge Robinson, at the outset of his address, said that all of the kindly feeling expressed by Judge Sparks was reciprocated.

"I have had the good fortune to know him intimately," the speaker said, "and I have known him only to love him."

Judge Robinson also commented that Manly Pearce was to be congratulated for having the opportunity to serve Rushville Masons as he has, and that the lodge was to be congratulated for having a member who showed such a fine spirit of service.

"So I congratulate you for the things you have done and will do, for the traditions you have kept, the ideals you have espoused and your aspiration for the future," the speaker continued.

"Masonry has a beneficent influence that quickens men to good deeds. No aggregation of men meets where such a spirit pervades. I wonder why. It all goes back to the proposition that Masons trust one another."

"They are an aggregation of men, the like of which you can find no other place where men come together. Masonry holds up perfection in man as a guide to his conduct and insists everyone shall be a perfect man so far as manhood goes. No place else can you find a group of men that stands for such perfection in manhood."

"It is a great satisfaction to know," Judge Robinson said, "that Washington, one of the great men the world has produced, was a Mason. It is a comfort to know that throughout the long history of the

Auburn Another City Successfully Financing A Gymnasium Project

Although Erected in 1921, When it Was Thought Ample Large to Accommodate Crowds, Building Is Now Too Small, According to Supt. H. L. McKenney, Who Describes Method of Financing.

Another plan of how a gymnasium was successfully financed, comes from Auburn, Ind., a city of 4,650 inhabitants, and a fine building erected with a standard playing floor and a seating capacity of more than 2,000.

The building was built in 1921, and like a great many others built at that time, it is now too small, and there is a demand for more seats, but when it was constructed, it was believed to be adequate for future needs.

H. L. McKenney, superintendent of the city schools in Auburn, can best describe the method used in financing the building, and the following was written by him:

ALVAH J. RUCKER TO ADDRESS CHURCH MEN

Former Prosecutor of Marion County Will Speak at First Presbyterian Dinner March 5

"INDIANA APPLES" THEME

Men of the First Presbyterian church will hold their third meeting of this winter, on Thursday night of next week, March 5. This meeting is put on by group No. 3, of which Paul Allen is chairman. The other meetings have proved very popular and it is planned to make this one the best.

The speaker will be Alvah J. Rucker, a lawyer of Indianapolis. Mr. Rucker was formerly prosecutor of Marion county. He is a member of the First Presbyterian church, and teaches the Men's Bible class in the Memorial Presbyterian church, of over a hundred members. His subject will be "Indiana Apples." However, he intimates that this is not a horticultural address and very evidently the apples are not the kind we eat.

A small charge will be made to pay for the expense of the dinner, and all men and friends of the church are asked to keep the date in mind and secure a ticket in advance, so that the committee will know how many to prepare for.

EXEMPTION PERIOD WILL OPEN MONDAY

May Be Filed by Soldiers, Soldiers' Widows and Persons with Mortgaged Property

TO CONTINUE UNTIL MAY 4

Attention was called to the fact at the auditor's office today that the period for filing soldiers' and mortgage exemptions begins next Monday and continues until the last day of the spring taxpaying period, the first Monday in May, which this year falls on the fourth.

Only soldiers over seventy years of age and soldier's widows over sixty years of age, who are not assessed for more than $5,000 worth of taxable property, are entitled to exemption.

If they can meet these requirements, they are not compelled to pay taxes either on real estate or personal property. Soldiers and soldiers' widows are required to show their pension certificate when they file for the exemption.

All persons owning mortgaged real estate are entitled to an exemption on real estate up to $1,000 providing the exemption claimed is not more than half of the assessed value of the real estate.

Taxing officials and others expressed satisfaction over the fact that Governor Jackson vetoed the bill passed by the legislature, which would have increased the limit on mortgage exemptions to $2,000. They say that such a law would have benefited the large taxpayers and would have increased the burden of the small taxpayers.

INDICTMENTS ARE DELAYED

New Inside Rum Ring Secret Barred Before Cleveland Grand Jury

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 27—New inside rum ring secrets were barred before the federal grand jury here, probing Ohio's liquor permit scandal and held up formal returning of indictments expected today.

The latest revelation came from an important principal. He was rushed to the federal building to tell his story as it became known that Armand Gardos, fugitive president of the Armand Drug and Candy company, which withdrew 15,000 cases of whiskey from Haver Distillery, Troy, in 1921 and 1922 and had been arrested in England. Federal officials have received important information from Gardos, it was said.

STEAM FIRE WHISTLE IS GIVEN A TRYOUT

Could be Heard for Miles When Blown Thursday Afternoon—Here On Approval

WILL BLOW BOX NUMBER

The steam fire whistle has been installed and was given a test Thursday afternoon, and is being blown three times daily, six in the morning, noon and six at night.

The whistle is the largest in size on the market, and during the test Thursday afternoon, it could be heard for miles. It is a two-toned whistle, with the siren effect when one lever is pulled, and a solid blast when another lever is pulled.

In case of fire alarms pulled from alarm boxes, the siren will blow for 15 seconds, and this will be followed by the number of the box, blown by the solid number of blasts to correspond with the box number. In case of telephone calls, no location can be given. The whistle is here on approval.

JOHNSON COUNTY MEN WILL SPEAK

O. S. Williams, County Agent, and Farm Bureau Secretary, Coming For Corn Improvement Day

TO BE OBSERVED ON MARCH 14

First 125 Farmers Sending in Kernel From 100 Ears May Compare Seed With Demonstration Dolls

O. S. Williams, agricultural agent of Johnson county, and Mr. Scott, secretary of the Johnson county farm bureau, will be the principal speakers on Rush County Corn Improvement Day to be observed here Saturday, March 14.

The meeting will be held in the court house assembly room, beginning at one o'clock in the afternoon. The two Johnson county men have superintended the testing of more corn than any other men in Indiana, if not in the United States, it is believed, because of the whole-sale methods of testing used in Johnson county.

They will bring a number of modified rag dolls for the demonstration, to show the kinds of corn the farmers in Johnson county discard in the test.

At this meeting, the first 125 farmers who send one kernel of corn from the middle of one hundred ears of their seed to the county agent's office before Tuesday, March 3, will receive a modified rag doll of their corn and be permitted to compare it with the demonstration dolls.

Farmers may send in their corn by mail, according to the county agent.

There are few dead ears this year, it is pointed out, but by means of Corn Improvement Day, each farmer who cooperates will be able to determine the relative vitality of his seed corn.

It was the first time Judge Baltzell had heard arraignment, sitting on the federal bench.

Thirty-four persons entered pleas of guilty and Judge Baltzell was to impose sentence this afternoon. Trial of one hundred and eight persons entering pleas of not guilty will begin March 11, Judge Baltzell announced.

DENIES CHARGE OF DELAYING MEASURES

Speaker Leslie Answers Accusation That he Was Deliberately Holding up Bills to Prevent Passage

PUTS BLAME ON LEGISLATORS

Senate Passes Bill to Abolish Special State Tax Levies And it Goes to The Governor

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27—In an address from the chair, Speaker Leslie of the house today vigorously denied charges that he was deliberately holding up some measures to prevent them from being acted upon before final adjournment.

He put the blame for delay in action upon bills on legislators who introduced bills of minor importance that slowed up consideration of the major issues.

"If anybody in the state has a pet idea all they have to do is to write some legislator and he will introduce it," Leslie said.

One administration measure was advanced a step nearer becoming a law and another was withdrawn in the legislature today.

Representative Elough of Indianapolis withdrew his bill to establish permanent automobile license plates. The bill was recommended by Governor Jackson in his address to the legislature.

The senate passed the bill to abolish special state tax levies. The measure has passed the house and now goes to the governor.

The Freeman-Summy soldier bonus bill was in the hands of the state senate today following passage in the house late yesterday on a narrow margin of 54 to 38.

The bill would pay fifteen dollars a week with a maximum of $300 for each week in service to all veterans of the Spanish American and World Wars, and carries referendum provisions.

The state department of conservation would receive $25,000 for the reforestation of waste lands in southern Indiana under a bill which passed the house late yesterday.

The measure which was introduced by Representative Lafuze of Liberty, carries a 1 mill tax levy provision for the reforestation appropriation.

Motor vehicles would be licensed by weight instead of horsepower in another Lafuze bill which passed the house by a vote of 71 to 20.

Receiving hearty support from the farmer element in the house, the Garney bill to make it unlawful to sell milk containing oils and fats other than butter passed the house by a vote of 81 to 8.

The Steele senate bill authorizing an injunction against stream pollution received strenuous opposition

WARMER WEATHER TO FOLLOW COLD SPELL

Prediction of Lower Temperatures is Fulfilled, With Mercury Sinking to 6 Above Zero

UNSETTLED WEATHER LIKELY

The prediction for colder weather, made hursday by the weather bureau, was fulfilled, and the mercury during the night dropped to 6 degrees above zero, according to Elwood Kirkwood at Mauney.

The cold spell hung on for a long time after sunrise, and at ten o'clock the temperature had risen only 4 degrees, and at noon was 15 above, maintaining a temperature throughout the day that is somewhat unusual for the last of February, and especially noticeable after the two weeks of warm weather.

The weather report for tonight is fair in most localities, becoming cloudy late tonight and increasing cloudiness for Saturday. Not so cold for Saturday, is the report, and the increasing cloudiness is probably a forecast of unsettled weather early next week.

Near zero and sub-zero weather extended throughout the midwest. The Pas, Manitoba, reported 32 degrees below zero and at Duluth, Minn., it was 22 below.

PUBLIC MUST COOPERATE TO PROTECT ROADS THIS SPRING

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27—There are approximately 3,000 miles of stone and gravel road in Indiana's state highway system, and if these surfaces are to go through this spring without being badly damaged, the public must cooperate by abolishing heavy loads during thaw and rain periods, it was pointed out in the commission's weekly traffic bulletin issued today from the office of John D. Williams, director.

Reports to the central office show recent rains general over the state, and that in many localities heavy rains continued two and three days. Naturally gravel and stone surfaces, subjected to heavy traffic, deteriorated rapidly despite every effort to keep them up. Indiana state roads are an investment, Williams declared, and the motoring public should be as much interested in saving what they paid for, as the department which is working night and day to keep light traffic in continuous operation.

Many gravel and stone surfaced highways have been posted calling attention that loads are restricted to three tons gross, when surfaces are soft. This usually occurs during and immediately after a rain. The public is asked to use judgment in the matter of hauling, and when any where possible, to cut tonnage to half the normal haul if surface conditions demand such.

The bulletin pointed out that the majority of cases the public is cooperating in a most commendable manner. Truck and motor bus people volunteered to do their part, and in only a few instances has it been necessary to stop overloaded vehicles until surfaces hardened. Large firms transporting much material are in constant touch with the highway office, because these enterprises recognize the value of good roads in their business and desire to help keep them in the best shape possible during the most trying period of the year. Unlike many states Indiana is not prohibiting the heavier loads on paved sections.

Some idea of the peculiar requests made is illustrated in the seeking of permits to move houses over softened highways. Several such requests have been denied, with one allowed in the latter case the house was moved only one square, and the party moving it laid down planks to protect the road surface.

Surface conditions, detours, etc., for the week of February 23—March 6, are set forth in the bulletin as follows:

No. 1—Pavement from Franklin via Indianapolis to Peru. Drive carefully at new bridge fill 7 miles north of Kokomo. In Seymour turn right at corner of Tipton and O'Brien Sts. following marked detour via Chestnut Ridge coming out on No. 1 at 7 miles north of Crothersville. Parts of detour alternate from soft to rough.

No. 2—Pavement from Lincoln Highway west to 2½ miles east of Columbia City; detour marked to Columbia City. At Columbia City take old location west to Pierceton, thence detour north to new pavement into Warsaw. Soft between No. 27 and Bourbon—heavy traffic avoid.

No. 4—One mile of earth road between Dugger and Lintao; detour over county road thru Dugger, in wet weather. Run-around at Basserson dredge ditch, 3 miles east of Sullivan is narrow and likely to be under water after heavy rain necessitating detour.

No. 5—Closed from junction of roads 5 and 41, south of Shoals, to junction of roads 5 and 49 near West Baden. Traffic use roads 41 and 22, thru Shoals, Barton, Mitchell and Orleans to Paoli.

No. 6—Pavement from Indianapolis to Shelbyville with two detours at bridge construction, one of which is bad. Shelbyville to Indianapolis traffic can avoid this detour—passable in dry weather—by taking county road pavement from Indianapolis to 3 miles north of Lebanon, thence on short detour back to pavement. Detour at 6 miles north of Lebanon to west thru Thorntown returning to No. 6 at 3 miles north of Thorntown. Short detour to east at 4 miles north of Thorntown. Last detour impassable in wet weather, so Lebanon—Lafayette traffic advised to take 44 from Lebanon via Frankfort to Rossville, thence on 29 to Lafayette.

No. 7—Soft and closed to heavy traffic between Wabash and Lagro in wet weather; also closed at such time at 5 miles west of Wabash.

No. 10—Pavement from Evansville to 2 miles north of Hazelton, but traffic must use old bridge over Patoka river at Patoka. Closed at 4 miles north of Veedersburg account paving; detour to east returning to No. 10 at 7 miles south of Attica. Crawfordville—Attica traffic use "Adeway" during thawing weather. Eight miles north of Attica detour east in bad weather account bridge construction. Side detour 19 miles south of Boswell account bridge construction; in wet weather detour west a mile.

No. 11—Breaks in surface between Eden and Pendleton. Roadside run-around at bridge out 2½ miles north of State Rd. 46, bad in wet weather.

No. 12—Drive slow over new fill at Fish Creek 4 miles south of Freedom.

No. 14—Earth road from Leopold Jr. to St. Croix is impassable at this time.

No. 16—Do not use this road from overhead crossing project just west of Lincoln City, east through Lincoln City, St. Meinrad and St. Croix to Leavenworth, as it is under construction and earth surface most of the way.

No. 16—Two run-arounds between

Ligonier and Kendallville, account bridge construction.

No. 19—Small breaks near Alexandria, but passable. Soft and heavy trucks prohibited.

No. 22—Pavement between Indianapolis and Martinsville with one detour and one run-around. Between Paoli and English are 17 miles of earth surface impassable to autos at this time. Avoid south of Grantsburg account of construction.

No. 24—New grade completed between Palmyra and Salem but proceed via Fredericksburg or Martinsburg in wet weather. (New Albany and Louisville (Ky) traffic go via Pekin and Martinsburg coming out on State Road No. 5 at Greenville in wet weather.)

No. 25—Pavement from Lagrange to within one mile of Goshon—Middleburg road. One-half mile detour marked to south account of bridge construction. Detour in poor condition during thawing weather. Heavy traffic should avoid this stretch, run-around at bridge construction 1 and 9 miles east of Angola. Run-around in bad shape in case of high water. Traffic cautioned to proceed slowly.

A PERFECT GASOLINE

To make gasoline is one thing. To make good gasoline is another. But to make a gasoline that is superior to all of its kind is an achievement of which we are justly proud.

To make high-test gasoline is not an unusual achievement for a skilled refiner, but to make a high-test gasoline that sacrifices nothing in power—that is worthy of note.

Solite is a light, volatile, high-test gasoline. It has every element of efficiency of any high-test gasoline, but, in addition, it sacrifices nothing. It drives the piston the full stroke under power.

Solite costs a little more but it is made for the man who is willing to pay a little more to get quicker action.

MOVE IS LAUNCHED TO FREE M'GRAY

Plan However Will Receive Little Encouragement From Officers in The Federal Court

SERVING 10 YEAR TERM

It is Customary in Commuting Sentence of Federal Prisoners to Secure Court's Approval

Indianapolis, Feb. 27.—The move to free former Governor McCray from the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, where he is serving a sentence of ten years for fraudulently use of the mails, will receive a little support from officials of the federal court here, it was indicated today.

It is customary in commuting the sentence of federal prisoners to secure the approval of the district attorney who led the prosecution.

Homer Elliott, who was district attorney during the trial of McCray, maintained a policy of refusing to approve commutations.

While he has not commented on the move to liberate McCray, it is believed by federal officials that he will retain the same attitude of disapproval in the case of the former governor.

Advise to federal officials here from Washington indicate that President Coolidge will adhere to the rule requiring the district attorney's approval.

The rule also requires that the convict must serve at least one third of his sentence before commutation will be considered.

With a sentence of ten years, McCray would have to serve three years and four months if the rule of commutation of sentence are strictly observed.

McCray has served about nine months.

"I have promised no one immunity," Remy said. "That is not in my power. The whole question of continuing the probe is up to the grand jury."

THREATS MADE IN CLEAN-UP DRIVE

"Underworld Ruffians" in Kansas City Says More Deaths Will Result if Clean-up Goes on

FOUR PERSONS IN JAIL

Police Officers Held as Being Implicated in "Shaking Down" of "Shaking Places"

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 27.—"Underworld ruffians" in Kansas City say more deaths will result if police persist in their "shaking down" of "shaking places." Kansas City's jungle underworld, it is charged, threatened the department to action and four persons were in jail today.

John H. Stark, former police agent, was arrested and Dan Wolfman, Ed Joltz, and A. L. Griffin were re-arrested in connection with the murder of B. G. Lovejoy, patrolman and George W. Peters, former police chauffeur, who were found brutally slain Sunday in a jungle section near here, the rendezvous of bootleggers and thugs.

Stark is said to have been an intimate of both Peters and Lovejoy. While on the federal prohibition department he employed Peters frequently as a spotter and often asked for Lovejoy for assistance in making raids. Stark's record shows he was dropped "for the good of the department."

City and police officials have expressed a curiosity as to how a number of members of the police department whose salary averages about $140 a month, can purchase and maintain high powered motor cars.

A desire to see the bright lights and spend money with "the best of 'em" is thought by police to have been the motive that urged Peters and Lovejoy to make connection with "bottoms" bootleggers. Police say they are certain the two men had been engaged in "shaking down" soft drink parlors and bootleg places, extracting a toll from their victims in return for not appearing in court against them.

Talented Reader, Pianist and Composer Coming to City Tuesday

Miss Edna M. Welty, talented pianist, reader and composer, will give her program of music and readings in the First Baptist church next Tuesday evening at 7:45, under the auspices of the Progressive Booster class of the Sunday school. She also was received with great enthusiasm when she assisted the McKinleys during their two programs at the high school.

During the present season she has been appearing in the northern part of the state where her programs have been well received. Many of the comments upon her work put her program above many of the Lyceum numbers appearing in the places where she has given her program.

Tickets went on sale Thursday night. Mrs. Wilbur Mahin is chairman of the committee arranging the entertainment.

Indiana Roads

Thomas A. Adams, editor of the Vincennes Commercial and chairman of the Indiana newspaper committee on highways, has issued a vigorous appeal to the state legislature for defeat of the plans to budget the state highway commission's funds.

In this he is entirely right. Money is raised by a special tax levy and a gasoline tax for the purpose of maintaining an improving the state highways through the direction of a state highway commission. For each dollar expended in this manner, the federal government provides a fixed sum for road work.

Automobile owners who are taxed for every gallon of gasoline they use expect that the money shall go for good roads. They see no reason for the legislature to dole it out as the legislators see fit when the laws specifies that it shall be used on the highways.

The highway department was created by law expressly for the purpose of doing just what it is doing, and why a budget committee should direct how the funds shall be spent, how much the appropriation shall be and how the department shall be administered is beyond the comprehension of the average person.

No one has been able to explain yet the reason for this sudden concern about the highway commission. There is none to object to the legislature inquiring into the way

GIVE YOUR STOMACH A CHANCE

The average person puts into his or her stomach just about twice as much food as the body needs or the stomach can digest. One of two things must happen—either the stomach weakens under the load or it must receive assistance, before it does weaken. Some people take time by the forelock because the stomach generally gives warning that it is being abused. These symptoms are gas, sour stomach, bloating, coated tongue and the like. When these symptoms appear take heed of the warning. Nature doesn't give these warnings unless they mean something. First stop overloading the stomach and secondly go to your druggist and ask for Di-Jo. A few Di-Jo Tablets will give instant relief and enable the digestive juices to do their work. If you insist upon eating what you want, keep yourself supplied with Di-Jo. It will remove part of the load which the digestive forces of the stomach have to carry. If you are troubled with constipation take Di-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

—Advertisement—

the money is spent, for the purpose of determining whether economy has been practiced, but it's hard to find any reason for a budget committee attempting to dictate what the state highway commission shall do when the commission is appointed to take charge of the roads.

It is false economy, as Mr. Adams points out, take a step backward, after the progress Indiana has made in road building. The highway department, after thorough investigation, asked for approximately 18 million dollars annually, which could be supplied by an extra cent on gasoline and a 50 per cent increase of license fees, with a fair bus and truck tax.

Mr. Adams says that these fees would raise approximately 15 million dollars annually which, with federal aid, would bring a sum sufficient to build in three years, one thousand miles of additional paved roads, or 350 miles a year, and care for 5,000 miles of unpaved roads. This program would give, he claims, a paved road east and west and north and south through every county in Indiana.

This is what Indiana must have. Over one thousand miles of train to meet the needs of transportation, mail service have been abandoned in the United States since last July and the time will come when even rural mail service will be seriously hampered by the rapidly lessening local mail trains.

The only way this problem can be met is with more and more good roads. A decrease rather than an increase in the state road building program would be a penny-wise, pound-foolish policy. Yet this is what is going to happen if the legislature insists on this budgeting plan.

Tax Reform

Of more than fifty amendments to the constitution pending in congress, six are devoted to the problem of taxing state bonds.

Thus, it appears that leaders in congress are beginning to appreciate that the greatest evil of a taxation system is the tax-free bond which allows wealth to escape its share of the tax burden.

Conservative estimates by financial experts are that if this loophole were plugged, the taxes of the average man in the United States could be lowered twenty percent.

The proposal to tax state bonds was considered when the present law was passed, but was defeated in the house. If President Coolidge summons congress next September to consider a new tax reduction bill the issue will be squarely before the federal legislators again.

Those opposed to the resolution for such an amendment assert that it would usurp state rights, but this argument is discounted by the fact that the constitution can not be amended without three-fourths of the state concurring, in which case it could be safely said that they did not regard it as depriving them of any of their rights.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Since simplicity and economy have been decreed as the guiding factors in the Coolidge inaugural, historically minded folk have been searching the records to discover just how simple or how ostentatious preceding inaugurations have been.

From the facts disclosed by these quests it seems that the peak of popular acclamation, jubilation and celebration was reached at the inaugurations of George Washington and Theodore Roosevelt.

Washington's first inauguration was on April 30, 1789, in New York. His whole progress from Mt. Vernon to New York, made by carriage and not on horseback, was a colorful pageant lasting through an entire week.

He was accompanied on the successive stages of the journey by relays of colonial dignitaries, as well as by a civil and military escort, and his arrival at each relay point was accompanied by illuminations, music, banquets and much speechmaking.

This trip is said to have cost Washington personally about $3000.

IN color and hilarity the Roosevelt inauguration, with its delegations of Rough Riders, Indians, soldiers and shouting citizenry, never has been matched.

Estimates placed the number of visitors who saw the Roosevelt inaugural parade at 5,000,000.

The parade itself took nearly four hours to pass the reviewing stand.

The Coolidge parade will be limited so it can be "reviewed" in about 45 minutes.

THOMAS JEFFERSON was the first of the presidents to take the oath in Washington.

Jefferson and Madison were inducted into office inside the incomplete capital building.

When arrangements were under way for the Monroe inauguration in 1817, the House and Senate couldn't agree on the disposition of seats and finally it was agreed to hold the exercises outdoors where there would be room for everybody.

Because of stormy weather, John Quincy Adams and William Howard Taft took the oath inside the capitol. With these two exceptions, all presidents since Monroe have been sworn in in front of the central portico of the capitol.

THE one inauguration which may surpass the coming inaugural of Coolidge in intentional simplicity and lack of pretension, was that of Jefferson.

Along with the story of Washington and the cherry tree, American schoolboys have been taught how Tom rode alone down to the capitol, hitched his horse to a sapling outside, and then took the oath.

In reality, however, it does not seem to have been quite so simple. Authenticated records of the occasion show that Jefferson was accompanied to the capitol by a considerable company of militia men, friends and admirers, and that a really respectable gathering was on hand to acclaim the new president.

The record inaugural "rough-house" was staged at the time, Andy Jackson took office.

After the inaugural ceremonies, the White House was thrown open for a reception.

An uncontrollable mob of Jackson boosters surged in, waiters were knocked down, refreshments—there was no prohibition law then—were spilled, glassware broken and the broad seats of chairs and divans muddled by the boots of the countrymen who climbed upon them to get a better look at "Our Andy."

He's Ice Skating Champ

FRANCIS ALLEN

GOLF is regarded as one sport where past performances count for but little.

Champions come and go in golf with almost monotonous regularity. Title holders are dethroned annually.

Walter Hagen is one of the very few leaders in golf who is ever consistent. Hagen is the one champion who for years has lived up to his title.

Speed skating is almost as fickle with its champions as the old Scottish game of golf.

Each year some new flash bolts up. Upsetting the dope is a favorite pastime among our best ice skaters.

The latest phenom is Francis Allen, holder of the international amateur outdoor speed-skating championship. Recently Allen added further laurels by winning the American diamond trophy and the national title at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Allen finished with a total of 56 points, just enough to top Charles Gorman of St. John, N. B., defending champion.

Allen, who hails from Chicago, triumphed over one of the classic fields ever entered in the Lake Placid classic.

Shifts in Base Ball Teams

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 27—John McGraw was one of the very few major league managers who thought enough of his last year's team to stick to it for another campaign. There are other teams that haven't been changed, but most of these remain the same because their managers couldn't make the changes they wanted.

Jack Hendricks made several additions to the Cincinnati Reds from the minor leagues, but he failed to get a first baseman to succeed Jack Daubert and he probably will have to go through the season with Rube Bressler, a reformed pitcher, on first base. Bressler is a very good player, however, and he may fill the bill.

The Braves and the Robins made only one minor deal and the Phils failed to do anything to strengthen a notoriously weak team.

The Pirates and the Cubs were well shaken up by a big deal and both clubs may be benefited.

McGraw says that Pittsburgh will give him his hardest fight. He thinks that the Pirates will be improved as a result of the trade with the Chicago Cubs. The Pittsburgh officials were criticized by some very good authorities for parting with Grimm, Maranville, and Cooper, but others thought it was a smart move. It must be remembered that some of the best ball players are not assets. There are numerous ways in which they can be a handicap to a team. Some players are disturbers and some are easy-going to the point of being soft.

Maranville and Grimm may be a big asset to the Cubs but they were almost a loss to the Pirates, and Bill McKechnie found the best way to get some one in their places.

Washington made the most lineup changes among the American League teams, and the team should be greatly improved for the race. Dutch Reuther and Stan Coveleskie are not young enough to be sure things, but neither are they too old to be desperate gamblers. Vean Gregg, who comes back from the minor leagues, is a gamble. The return of Walter Johnson to the team was the best piece of luck Bucky Harris had because Sir Walter is almost certain to be a winner for at least two more years. The addition of Mike McNally also ought to be of benefit to the team, as reserve strength was vitally needed. McNally also has the habit of landing on a pennant-winning team.

HIGH SPOTS TONIGHT

Liberty at Rushville (2 games)
Moscow at Arlington.
Manilla at Waldron.
Borwnsburg at Anderson.
Columbus at Frankfort.
Elwood at Franklin.
Franklin at Bloomington.
Greenfield at Spiceland.
Kokomo at Rochester.
Marion at Newcastle.
Richmond at Bedford.
Shortridge at Martinsville.
Technical at Martinsville.
Versailles at Greensburg.

Tonight is the last Friday night for regular scheduled games. This time next week and the sectionals will be on in full blast.

The drawing for those sectionals will be made in the morning, and announced as quickly as possible. Rushville sectional drawing will be announced in our noon edition Saturday.

Hugh Vandiver, principal of the Martinsville high school, leaves a perfectly good game tonight over in his big gym, where Vincennes is to be entertained, and he comes over here to referee the Liberty-Rushville game. We don't see how he could do it.

LIBERTY OR BUST TONIGHT

A great many sport writers over the state are talking about the best backguards, and the name of Gill, of Washington and Skinner of Bedford are mentioned frequently. They take the ball off the bank board and are said to be wizzards, but even at that don't forget that Rushville has a back guard named Miller that is no mean performer on that bank board stuff, and he usually makes a pretty getaway with the ball. The thing to do is win the sectional, down Columbus in the regional, and show your stuff in the state tourney.

"At this meeting the youngsters appealed to the members of the alumni for assistance in the school effort to secure a gymnasium. Members of the school board present at the banquet informed the audience that with the assistance of the boys and girls and financial aid by the alumni association, it would be possible for the board to build a gymnasium.

"Later, details were worked out and 'gym pledges' solicited from all members of the high school alumni and everybody else in the city. In this way approximately half of the cost of the structure was met.

"We also sold reserved season tickets at $5.00 each and raised more than $1,500 in that way.

"Our building outside measurements, is 92 by 122 feet, seats more than 2,000 people, allowing 17 inches seat room per person, and has a playing floor 48 by 80 feet on which we have laid off a court 42 by 72.

BET HE IS GLAD OF IT

Basketball seasons come and basketball seasons go, and here's another one about gone!—Short Passes, Shelbyville.

Here is a Fan Wanting Some Information

Dear Hittin' 'em—

Don't you think it would be a very good idea if the managers of the local high school basketball association would let the fans know just a little about where the money goes that is taken in at the games? Some think there should be a big profit at the end of each season, while others think it is hard to get by on the gate receipts. If we are to have a new gym, is it going to be a paying proposition? Yours,
F. A. N.

While probably Mr. Butler will furnish some information asked for above, yet it is a known fact that the proceeds from the games amount to a great deal each year. This money, as Hittin' 'em understands it, goes into the high school athletic association, and the upkeep, repairs, maintenance, lights, heat and the like are paid from that fund at the gym, and is not a part of the school board expenses. In addition to this, the athletic association supports other branches of sport, including baseball and track, and preparations are being made for football next year. These sports are "dead" losses as no money is taken in. Besides the association has paid expenses in contests not associated with sports, such as debating, oratorical and the like. In all, the financial burden has been great, but no doubt Mr. Butler could tell anyone what could be the earning power behind a team.

Another Fellow Has a Place For That New Gym

Dear Hittin' 'em—

Speaking of a location for the new gym, how about the Keating place in East Fifth street? There is ample room there and the gym could be made to face either Fourth or Fifth street. It is only a five minute walk from the business district and about the same from the high school building. It would also provide ample parking space.

Yours for a gym to seat 5,000.
RHS BOOSTER

We use bleacher style seats with no balcony.

"The building is double brick wall on concrete foundation. The roof is supported by the 'Bowstring Truss,' manufactured by McKeown Company of Chicago. This truss will support an unusually large roof without posts in the building and is cheaper than steel. There is nothing in our gymnasium to obstruct the view of the spectators.

"The building is located on a lot adjoining our high school property and within 20 feet of our heating plant. We were thus able to pipe steam from our heating plant to the gymnasium and save the cost of an extra plant for the new building.

"In our opinion a gymnasium built separate from a school building is cheaper, can be made to accommodate more spectators and is more easily managed.

"We expect to construct a movable platform that can be set up in the gymnasium when we wish to use it for community meetings. At such time, with seats placed on the playing floor, the building will easily seat 3,000 people."

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT

K. M. Huddleson Alleges Scores of Defendants May Claim Share in Estate

WANTS RECORDS RECTIFIED

A suit to quiet the title to real estate has been filed in the circuit court, in which K. M. Huddleson is plaintiff and William Morris and a score of others are named defendants. The plaintiff alleges that the title is not clear, and that all of the defendants may claim an interest in it, unless the records are rectified by the courts.

There is little business in court these days, with only the routine of matters coming up, including motions filed in various cases, answers filed and petitions presented in probate and guardianship matters.

A further hearing in the child possession suit of Clyde Merritt against Hazle Merritt is scheduled for Saturday before Judge Lowe of Lawrenceburg, special judge in the case. Sheriff Hunt today was summoning a great many witnesses for the case, and tomorrow will mark the third day of trial in the matter, the third day of trial in the matter, on two former occasions to hear evidence, which was not concluded either time. An effort to finish the case tomorrow will be made.

GLORIFIES MASONRY IN LODGE ADDRESS

nation, Masonry has stood for light against darkness, virtue against vice, freedom against tyranny, liberty against slavery, good against bad, education against ignorance.

"Masonry depends for its influence on faith in almighty God and its capacity to teach men the great principles of life."

The speaker discussed the change in Masonry from the operative to the speculative. He said the first grand lodge of Masons was established in London in 1717 and is the mother of all lodges now in existence. The lodge began taking in honorary members, who came in time to be called speculative Masons, until now there is only one lodge of operative Masons in the world.

Judge Robinson described the background influenced by Masonry that Washington found when he grew to manhood, and said that the first president was deeply influenced by Masonry all during his life. It was introduced into the United States in 1830, two years before Washington's birth.

The speaker pointed to some of the leaders of revolutionary days who were Masons, including the following: Paul Revere, John Paul Jones, Patrick Henry, William Daves, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton, Robert Livingston, John Hancock; also 59 out of 60 brigadier generals under Washington and 21 of the 29 major generals under Washington.

"Things did not happen so," he commented. "Washington saw to it that men in responsible positions were Masons because he could trust them."

Judge Robinson pointed out that governors of the thirteen original states were Masons and that 52 of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence were Masons. It was written on a Masonic apron, the written on a Masonic apron, the speaker said.

Judge Robinson spoke of Lafayette's relation to Masonry and the sequel to his part in the Revolution when Gen. Pershing, also a Mason, laid a wreath on Lafayette's tomb with the words, "Lafayette we are here."

"It was largely through him whose birthday we celebrate that the constitutional convention was held," the speaker continued. "Out of the 555 delegates to the convention, 50

80 PERCENT OF COLLEGE STUDENTS UN-CHRISTIAN

Prof. Hartman of Chicago University States Students Lose Faith Before Entering College

AGE LIMIT IS LOWERING

(By United Press)

Chicago, Feb. 27—Eighty percent of the students entering college are un-Christian, Professor Hartman of the University of Chicago, declared in a speech here in defense of the charge that college and university men have abandoned their faith.

"It is not the colleges and universities which upset the faith of students," Prof. Hartman declared. "Their faith is upset before they enter college."

"Investigation of the freshmen, revealed that eighty percent of the young men entering college gave up religion before entering college."

"The age limit is constantly lowering and we must begin to surround our youths with right association and give them right ideals if we would insure their self control."

Much of the fault lies with ministers who fail to keep pace with the changing needs of the times, Prof. Hartman said.

were Masons. It didn't just happen that way. The people wanted a government founded on the principles of Masonry.

"Washington was largely instrumental in writing the constitution because he presided over every session. Today it is a living institution, not an abstract document with signatures attached."

In closing, Judge Robinson referred to the guarantees of the constitution and showed how Masonry made its influence felt in the writing of the American Magna Charta.

COOLIDGE PREPARES SPEECH

Using Care in Selecting Topics for Inaugural Address

Washington, Feb. 27—The senate Coolidge is drafting his inaugural address with greatest care, with the aim of making it his best state paper.

The president's goal is conciseness without sacrificing comprehensiveness. He has taken for an example the second inaugural address of Grover Cleveland which did not exceed two thousand words.

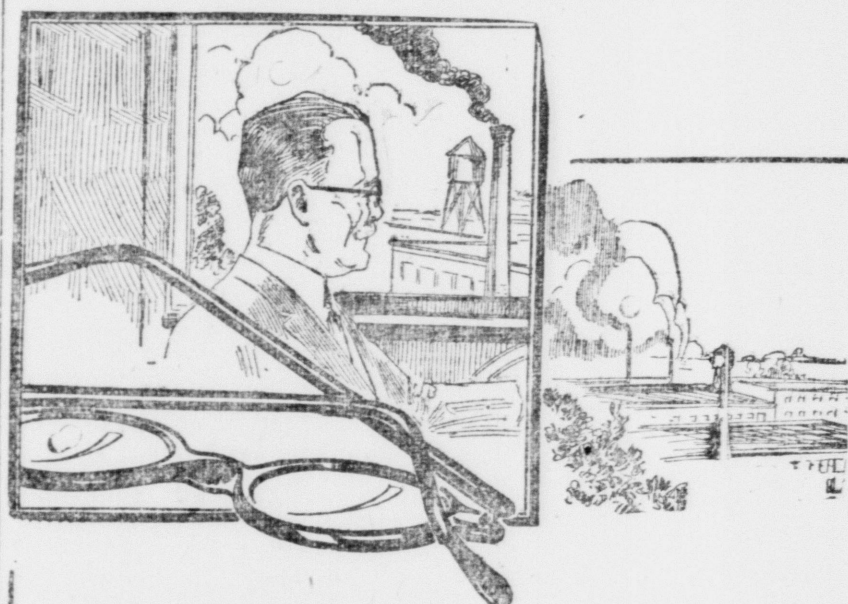

No definite word has come from his study as to what the document will contain, though it has been reliably reported that its main pre-occupation will be foreign affairs, which the president has singled out for principal attention during his administration. Farm relief also will be a topic.

LIVES IN GING NEIGHBORHOOD

John R. Reese, one of the 103 students on the Purdue university honor roll, was said in a dispatch from Lafayette appearing in the Daily Republican, to live in Manila, but instead his home is in the Ging neighborhood and his address is Rushville, R. R. 7. The other Rush county student on the honor roll was Wallace Beer of this city.

"The Alaskan," Al. Princess

Superb horsemanship alone made possible one of the most beautiful scenes in Thomas Meighan's latest picture "The Alaskan."

Under the direction of Herbert Brenon, who produced this James Oliver Curwood story for Paramount, Meighan posed on a narrow point of cliff. Horse and man were silhouetted against the sky. Below the crumbling ledge on which they stood was a here declivity of more than one thousand feet. In the background was the finest range of snow-clad peaks to be found in the entire Alaskan peninsula.

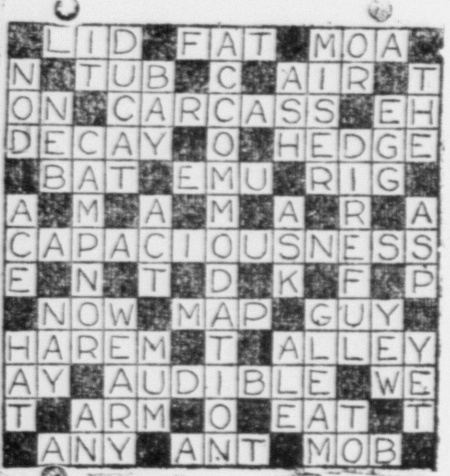

Following the "shot", Meighan turned slowly, mounted his horse and rode off the ledge. The dangerous moment followed the instant he swung his foot into the saddle. The horse, already nervous from gazing into the void, reared, sending a shower of stones over the edge. Urged by hand and voice, the animal dropped and then sprang away from the brink of the cliff.

While this scene, so beautiful in its effect, but so dangerous in reality, was being filmed, Estelle Taylor, John Sainpolis, Charles Ogle, Frank Campeau and Anna May Wong, who head the supporting cast, watched Meighan from an adjoining ledge on the cliff where the cameras were perched.

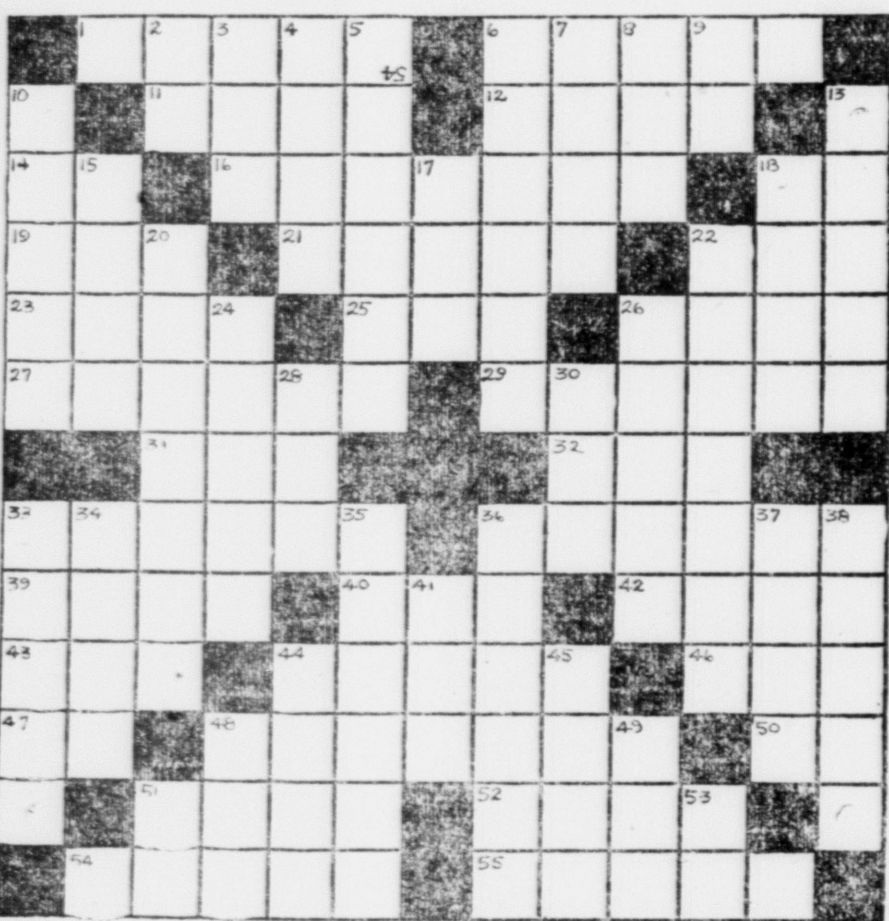

"The Alaskan" will be the feature film at the Princess theatre for two days beginning today.

Greensburg—"All the damages that foxes in the community would do in forty years would not equal the waste involved in one fox drive," George H. Mannfield, director of the fish and game division of the state department of conservation declared in a speech here.

REBEL SENATORS BACK ON THE JOB

File in One by One, Without Demonstration, on Promise of Bolt Cause Being Withdrawn

DENIED BY MAJORITY LEADER

Senator Nejd Says Rebel Democrats Were Not Promised Anything Definitely

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27—With the fifteen rebel Democrats back in their seats, the state senate today plunged into its work after a day of idleness.

The bolting senators filed into the chamber one at a time for the morning session without any demonstration.

Lieutenant Governor Van Orman and James J. Nejd, Republican floor leader, prepared to speed up the work of the senate and call up the appropriations bill for early consideration.

Nejd asserted positively that no definite promise had been made the minority members that the Penrod "gerrymandering" bill, the cause of the bolt, would be withdrawn.

"Lieutenant Governor Van Orman and I promised the strikers immunity from arrest by the senate," Nejd said. "They are already immune from arrest on any indictment until after the end of the session."

Walter Chambers, a Democratic spokesman, declared "ample assurance" had been given that the Penrod bill would not be pushed through.

"Any further move to advance the Penrod bill will precipitate another bolt," Chambers said.

D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, of Indiana, figured in the peace negotiations, it developed today.

Stephenson was in Dayton Thursday afternoon and held a long conference with Senator Cravens, Democratic floor leader in the senate, and Senator Harmon of Princeton, at the Miami hotel.

The two Democratic senators returned to the Gibbons hotel, headquarters of the strikers, and conferred with the other bolting senators.

Later Senators King and Easton conferred with Stephenson. Another caucus followed early in the evening and Cravens gave the word to return to Indianapolis.

The bus bearing the senators was followed out of Dayton by Stephenson's car. With Stephenson were Omer Hawkins, sheriff of Marion county, and Representative DeHaven of Indianapolis.

A rift was threatened in the ranks of the striking Democrats throughout Thursday afternoon, it was said.

REASONS THOUGHT MORE PERSONAL THAN POLITICS

Although They Claimed Victory, Toothbrush May Have Figured in Democratic Senators' Return

ONLY ONE IN WHOLE PARTY

(By United Press)

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 27—Although they issued a formal statement saying they had won their fight, Dayton is not certain that reasons far more personal than politics were not behind the sudden withdrawal of the striking state senators from Indiana.

Late in the first day of their self-imposed exile, the Democratic minority began to show signs of relenting.

There was only one tooth brush in the group and everybody realized that it was not sufficient for an overnight party.

A state convention of traffic men grabbed all the desirable rooms in town before night and the senators confessed that to take lodging at the prices they were asking for inferior rooms would be beyond the means of $6 a day state office holders.

Added to these inconveniences, everybody in the party except Senator Crosby, who brought along his handbag, was wondering where the clean collars and shirts, if any, were coming from.

TWO SUITS FOR REPLEVIN

Rushville National Bank Plaintiff—
—Suit for Possession

Three court actions were filed today in Justice Steinhilber's court, two being replevin suits and one a complaint for possession. In the replevin suits the Rushville National bank is plaintiff and Phillip Clark is defendant in one, and in the other Mertie Rose is defendant. In each case the suits involve notes purchased from the bankrupt firm of L. M. Meek, and the actions are to recover the goods involved. The demand in each case is for $25 judgment, and they will be heard March 2.

George Easley has filed suit against Emory Ratekin, the action being for possession of a house at 522 1/2 West street, and for $15 damages. The case has been set for March 5.

GLORIFIES MASONRY IN LODGE ADDRESS

Judge Arthur Robinson Shows Beneficent Influence it Had in Trying Days of Revolution

ITS EFFECT ON WASHINGTON

Manly Pearce Presented With Reversible Masonic Charm For Part in Acquiring Lodge Home

Masonry was glorified and the beneficent influence it has had on the development of the United States was pictured in an address by Judge Arthur Robinson of Indianapolis before Phoenix Lodge of this city Thursday evening, following a chicken dinner served by Martha Poe chapter No. 133, O. E. S.

The speaker also described Washington's leadership in Masonry and how he placed his confidence in Masons during the trying days of the republic's birth.

A reversible Masonic watch chain, emblematic of the degrees of Masonry, was presented to Manly Pearce by Amos Baxter, worshipful master of Phoenix lodge, as a small token of the lodge's appreciation for his part in clearing the debt on the Masonic temple and placing the second floor of the building in the possession of the lodge free of debt.

"We owe a deep debt of gratitude to one man," said Mr. Baxter, referring to Mr. Pearce, in presenting the charm, "and without his interest and leadership, the task could not have been accomplished."

Judge Will M. Sparks, in introducing Judge Robinson, complimented him highly, and Judge Robinson, at the onset of his address, said that all of the kindly feeling expressed by Judge Sparks was reciprocated.

"I have had the good fortune to know him intimately," the speaker said, "and I have known him only to love him."

Judge Robinson also commented that Manly Pearce was to be congratulated for having the opportunity to serve Rushville Masons as he has, and that the lodge was to be congratulated for having a member who showed such a fine spirit of service.

"So I congratulate you for the things you have done and will do, for the traditions you have kept, the ideals you have espoused and your aspiration for the future," the speaker continued.

"Masonry has a beneficent influence that quickens men to good deeds. No aggregation of men meets where such a spirit pervades. I wonder why. It all goes back to the proposition that Masons trust one another."

"They are an aggregation of men, the like of which you can find no other place where men come together. Masonry holds up perfection in man as a guide to his conduct and insists everyone shall be a perfect man so far as manhood goes. No place else can you find a group of men that stands for such perfection in manhood."

"It is a great satisfaction to know," Judge Robinson said, "that Washington, one of the great men the world has produced, was a Mason. It is a comfort to know that throughout the long history of the

Auburn Another City Successfully Financing A Gymnasium Project

Although Erected in 1921, When it Was Thought Ample Large to Accommodate Crowds, Building Is Now Too Small, According to Supt. H. L. McKenney, Who Describes Method of Financing.

Another plan of how a gymnasium was successfully financed, comes from Auburn, Ind., a city of 4,650 inhabitants, and a fine building erected with a standard playing floor and a seating capacity of more than 2,000.

The building was built in 1921, and like a great many others built at that time, it is now too small, and there is a demand for more seats, but when it was constructed, it was believed to be adequate for future needs.

H. L. McKenney, superintendent of the city schools in Auburn, can best describe the method used in financing the building, and the following was written by him:

ALVAH J. RUCKER TO ADDRESS CHURCH MEN

Former Prosecutor of Marion County will Speak at First Presbyterian Dinner March 5

"INDIANA APPLES" THEME

Men of the First Presbyterian church will hold their third meeting of this winter, on Thursday night of next week, March 5. This meeting is put on by group No. 3, of which Paul Allen is chairman. The other meetings have proved very popular and it is planned to make this one the best.

The speaker will be Alvah J. Rucker, a lawyer of Indianapolis. Mr. Rucker was formerly prosecutor of Marion county. He is a member of the First Presbyterian church, and teaches the Men's Bible class in the Memorial Presbyterian church, of over a hundred members. His subject will be "Indiana Apples." However, he intimates that this is not a horticultural address and very evidently the apples are not the kind we eat.

A small charge will be made to pay for the expense of the dinner, and all men and friends of the church are asked to keep the date in mind and secure a ticket in advance, so that the committee will know how many to prepare for.

EXEMPTION PERIOD WILL OPEN MONDAY

May be Filed by Soldiers, Soldiers' Widows and Persons with Mortgaged Property

TO CONTINUE UNTIL MAY 4

Attention was called to the fact at the auditor's office today that the period for filing soldiers' and mortgage exemptions begins next Monday and continues until the last day of the spring taxpaying period, the first Monday in May, which this year falls on the fourth.

Only soldiers over seventy years of age and soldier's widows over sixty years of age, who are not assessed for more than $5,000 worth of taxable property, are entitled to exemption.

If they can meet these requirements, they are not compelled to pay taxes either on real estate or personal property. Soldiers and soldiers' widows are required to show their pension certificate when they file for the exemption.

All persons owning mortgaged real estate are entitled to an exemption on real estate up to $1,000 providing the exemption claimed is not more than half of the assessed value of the real estate.

Taxing officials and others expressed satisfaction over the fact that Governor Jackson vetoed the bill passed by the legislature, which would have increased the limit on mortgage exemptions to $2,000. They say that such a law would have benefited the large taxpayers and would have increased the burden of the small taxpayers.

INDICTMENTS ARE DELAYED

New Inside Rum Ring Secret Barred Before Cleveland Grand Jury

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 27—New inside rum ring secrets were barred before the federal grand jury here, probing Ohio's liquor permit scandal and held up formal returning of indictments expected today.

The latest revelation came from an important principal. He was rushed to the federal building to tell his story as it became known that Armand Gardos, fugitive president of the Armand Drug and Candy company, which withdrew $15,000 cases of whiskey from Haver Distillery, Troy, in 1921 and 1922 and had been arrested in England. Federal officials have received important information from Gardos, it was said.

STEAM FIRE WHISTLE IS GIVEN A TRYOUT

Could be Heard for Miles When Blown Thursday Afternoon—Here On Approval

WILL BLOW BOX NUMBER

The steam fire whistle has been installed and was given a test Thursday afternoon, and is being blown three times daily, six in the morning, noon and six at night.

The whistle is the largest in size on the market, and during the test Thursday afternoon, it could be heard for miles. It is a two-toned whistle, with the siren effect when one lever is pulled, and a solid blast when another lever is pulled.

In case of fire alarms pulled from alarm boxes, the siren will blow for 15 seconds, and this will be followed by the number of the box, blown by the solid number of blasts to correspond with the box number. In case of telephone calls, no location can be given. The whistle is here on approval.

JOHNSON COUNTY MEN WILL SPEAK

O. S. Williams, County Agent, And Farm Bureau Secretary, Coming For Corn Improvement Day

TO BE OBSERVED ON MARCH 14

First 125 Farmers Sending in Kernel From 100 Ears May Compare Seed With Demonstration Dolls

O. S. Williams, agricultural agent of Johnson county, and Mr. Scott, secretary of the Johnson county farm bureau, will be the principal speakers on Rush County Corn Improvement Day to be observed here Saturday, March 14.

The meeting will be held in the court house assembly room, beginning at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The two Johnson county men have superintended the testing of more corn than any other men in Indiana, if not in the United States, it is believed, because of the wholesale methods of testing used in Johnson county.

They will bring a number of modified rag dolls for the demonstration, to show the kinds of corn the farmers in Johnson county discard in the test.

At this meeting, the first 125 farmers who send one kernel of corn from the middle of one hundred ears of their seed to the county agent's office before Tuesday, March 3, will receive a modified rag doll of their corn and be permitted to compare it with the demonstration dolls.

Farmers may send in their corn by mail, according to the county agent.

There are few dead ears this year, it is pointed out, but by means of Corn Improvement Day, each farmer who cooperates will be able to determine the relative vitality of his seed corn.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27—In rapid fire order 142 persons were arraigned in federal court today before Judge Baltzell.

It was the first time Judge Baltzell had heard arraignment, sitting on the federal bench.

Thirty-four persons entered pleas of guilty and Judge Baltzell was to impose sentence this afternoon. Trial of one hundred and eight persons entering pleas of not guilty will begin March 11, Judge Baltzell announced.

DENIES CHARGE OF DELAYING MEASURES

Speaker Leslie Answers Accusation That He Was Deliberately Holding up Bills to Prevent Passage

PUTS BLAME ON LEGISLATORS

Senate Passes Bill to Abolish Special State Tax Levies And it Goes to The Governor

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27—In an address from the chair, Speaker Leslie of the house today vigorously denied charges that he was deliberately holding up some measures to prevent them from being acted upon before final adjournment.

He put the blame for delay in action upon bills or legislators who introduced bills of minor importance that slowed up consideration of the major issues.

"If anybody in the state has a pet idea all they have to do is to write some legislation and he will introduce it," Leslie said.

One administration measure was advanced a step nearer becoming a law and another was withdrawn in the legislature today.

Representative Eboagh of Indianapolis withdrew his bill to establish permanent automobile license plates. The bill was recommended by Governor Jackson in his address to the legislature.

The senate passed the bill to abolish special state tax levies. The measure has passed the house and now goes to the governor.

The Freeman-Summy soldier bonus bill was in the hands of the state senate today following passage in the house late yesterday on a narrow margin of 54 to 33.

The bill would pay fifteen dollars a week with a maximum of $300 for each week in service to all veterans of the Spanish American and World Wars, and carries referendum provisions.

The state department of conservation would receive $25,000 for the reforestation of waste lands in southern Indiana under a bill which passed the house late yesterday.

The measure which was introduced by Representative Lafuze of Liberty, carries a 1 mill tax levy provision for the reforestation appropriation.

Motor vehicles would be licensed by weight instead of horsepower in another Lafuze bill which passed the house by a vote of 71 to 20.

Receiving hearty support from the farmer element in the house, the Garney bill to make it unlawful to sell milk containing oils and fats other than butter passed the house by a vote of 81 to 8.

The Steele senate bill authorizing an injunction against stream pollution received strenuous opposition.

WARMER WEATHER TO FOLLOW COLD SPELL

Prediction of Lower Temperatures is Fulfilled, With Mercury Sinking to 6 Above Zero

UNSETTLED WEATHER LIKELY

The prediction for colder weather, made Thursday by the weather bureau, was fulfilled, and the mercury during the night dropped to 6 degrees above zero, according to Elwood Kirkwood at Maury.

The cold spell hung on for a long time after sunrise, and at ten o'clock the temperature had risen only 4 degrees, and at noon was 15 above, maintaining a temperature throughout the day that is somewhat unusual for the last of February, and especially noticeable after the two weeks of warm weather.

The weather report for tonight is fair in most localities, becoming cloudy late tonight and increasing cloudiness for Saturday. Not so cold for Saturday, is the report, and the increasing cloudiness is probably a forecast of unsettled weather early next week.

Near zero and sub-zero weather extended throughout the middle west. The Pas, Manitoba, reported 32 degrees below zero and at Duluth, Minn., it was 22 below.

PUBLIC MUST COOPERATE TO PROTECT ROADS THIS SPRING

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27—There are approximately 3,000 miles of stone and gravel road in Indiana's state highway system, and if these surfaces are to go through this spring without being badly damaged, the public must cooperate by abolishing heavy loads during thaw and rain periods, it was pointed out in the commission's weekly traffic bulletin issued today from the office of John D. Williams, director.

Reports to the central office show recent rains general over the state, and that in many localities heavy rains continued two and three days. Naturally gravel and stone surfaces, subjected to heavy traffic, deteriorated rapidly despite every effort to keep them up. Indiana state roads are an investment, Williams declared, and the motoring public should be as much interested in saving what they paid for, as the department which is working night and day to keep light traffic in continuous operation.

Many gravel and stone surfaced highways have been posted calling attention that loads are restricted to three tons gross, when surfaces are soft. This usually occurs during and immediately after a rain. The public is asked to use judgment in the matter of hauling, and when and where possible, to cut tonnage to half the normal haul if surface conditions demand such.

The bulletin pointed out that the majority of cases the public is cooperating in a most commendable manner. Truck and motor bus people volunteered to do their part, and in only a few instances has it been necessary to stop overloaded vehicles until surfaces hardened. Large firms transporting much material overland are in constant touch with the highway office, because these enterprises recognize the value of good roads in their business and desire to help keep them in the best shape possible during the most trying period of the year. Unlike many states Indiana is not prohibiting the heavier loads on paved sections.

Some idea of the peculiar request made is illustrated in the seeking of permits to move houses over softened highways. Several such requests have been denied, with one allowed. In the latter case the house was moved only one square, and the party moving it laid down planks to protect the road surface.

Surface conditions, detours, etc., for the week of February 25—March 6, are set forth in the bulletin as follows:

No. 1—Pavement from Franklin via Indianapolis to Peru. Drive carefully at new bridge fill 7 miles north of Kokomo. In Seymour turn right at corner of Tipton and O'Brien Sts. following marked detour via Chestnut Ridge coming out on No. 1 at 7 miles north of Crothersville. Parts of detour alternate from soft to rough.

No. 2—Pavement from Lincoln Highway west to 2 1/2 miles east of Columbia City; detour marked to Columbia City. At Columbia City take old location west to Piercetown, thence detour north to new pavement into Warsaw. Soft between No. 27 and Bourbon—heavy traffic avoid.

No. 4—One mile of earth road between Dugger and Linton; detour over county road thru Dugger in wet weather. Run-around at Basserson dredge ditch, 3 miles east of Sullivan is narrow and likely to be under water after heavy rain necessitating detour.

No. 5—Closed from junction of roads 5 and 41, south of Shoals, to junction of roads 5 and 40 near West Baden. Traffic use roads 41 and 22, thru Shoals, Burton, Mitchell and Orleans to Paoli.

No. 6—Pavement from Indianapolis to Shelbyville with two detours at bridge construction, one of which is bad. Shelbyville to Indianapolis traffic can avoid this detour—passable in dry weather—by taking county road pavement from Indianapolis to 3 miles north of Lebanon, thence on short detour back to pavement. Detour at 6 miles north of Lebanon to west thru Thornstown returning to No. 6 at 3 miles north of Thornstown. Short detour to east at 1 mile north of Thornstown. Last detour impassable in wet weather, so Lebanon—Lafayette traffic advised to take 44 from Lebanon via Frankfort to Rossview, thence on 29 to Lafayette.

No. 7—Soft and closed to heavy traffic between Wabash and Lagro in wet weather; also closed at such time at 5 miles west of Wabash.

No. 10—Pavement from Evansville to 2 miles north of Hazelton, but traffic must use old bridge over Patoka river at Patoka. Closed at 4 miles north of Veederburg account paving; detour to east returning to No. 10 at 7 miles south of Attica. Crawfordville—Attica traffic use "Adeway" during thawing weather. Eight miles north of Attica detour east in bad weather account bridge construction. Side detour 10 miles south of Buswell account bridge construction; in wet weather detour west a mile.

No. 16—Two run-arounds between

Ligonier and Kendallville, account bridge construction.

No. 19—Small breaks near Alexandria, but passable. Soft and heavy trucks prohibited.

No. 22—Pavement between Indianapolis and Martinsville with one detour and one run-around. Between Paoli and English are 17 miles of earth surface impassable to autos at this time. Avoid south of Grantsburg account of construction.

No. 24—New grade-completed between Palmyra and Salem but proceed via Fredericksburg or Martinsburg in wet weather. (New Albany and Louisville (Ky) traffic go via Pekin and Martinsburg coming out on State Road No. 5 at Greenfield in wet weather.)

No. 25—Pavement from Lagrange to within one mile of Goshen—Midleburg road. One-half mile detour marked to south account of bridge construction. Detour in poor condition during thawing weather. Heavy traffic should avoid this stretch. Run-around at bridge construction 1 and 9 miles east of Angola. Run-around in bad shape in case of high water. Traffic cautioned to proceed slowly.

To make gasoline is one thing. To make good gasoline is another. But to make a gasoline that is superior to all of its kind is an achievement of which we are justly proud.

To make high-test gasoline is not an unusual achievement for a skilled refiner, but to make a high-test gasoline that sacrifices nothing in power—that is worthy of note.

Solite is a light, volatile, high-test gasoline. It has every element of efficiency of any high-test gasoline, but, in addition, it sacrifices nothing. It drives the piston the full stroke under power.

MOVE IS LAUNCHED TO FREE McCRAE

Plan However Will Receive Little Encouragement From Officers in The Federal Court

SERVING 10 YEAR TERM

It is Customary in Commuting Sentence of Federal Prisoners to Secure Court's Approval

Indianapolis, Feb. 27.—The move to free former Governor McCrae from the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, where he is serving a sentence of ten years for fraudulent use of the mails, will receive a little support from officials of the federal court here, it was indicated today.

It is customary in commuting the sentence of federal prisoners to secure the approval of the district attorney who led the prosecution.

Homer Elliott, who was district attorney during the trial of McCrae, maintained a policy of refusing to approve commutations.

While he has not commented on the move to liberate McCrae, it is believed by federal officials that he will retain the same attitude of disapproval in the case of the former governor.

Advise to federal officials here from Washington indicate that President Coolidge will adhere to the rule requiring the district attorney's approval.

The rule also requires that the convict must serve at least one third of his sentence before commutation will be considered.

With a sentence of ten years, McCrae would have to serve three years and four months if the rule of commutation of sentence are strictly observed.

McCrae has served about nine months.

FOUR PERSONS IN JAIL

Police Officers Held as Being Implicated in "Shaking Down" on Beasley Places

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 27.—"Underworld Rumble" in Kansas City says more deaths will result if police persisted in their investigation of Kansas City's jungle matters, stirred the department, to action and four persons were in jail today.

John H. Stark, former prohibition agent, was arrested and Dan Callahan, E. J. Joltz, and A. L. Griffith were re-arrested in connection with the murder of B. G. Lovejoy, patrolman and George W. Peters, former police chauffeur, who were found brutally slain Sunday in a jungle session near here, the rendezvous of bootleggers and thugs.

Stark is said to have been an intimate of both Peters and Lovejoy. While on the federal prohibition department he employed Peters frequently as a spotter and often asked for Lovejoy for assistance in making raids. Stark's record shows he was dropped "for the good of the department."

City and police officials have expressed a curiosity as to how a number of members of the police department whose salary averages about $140 a month, can purchase and maintain high powered motor cars.

A desire to see the bright lights and spend money with "the best of 'em" is thought by police to have been the motive that urged Peters and Lovejoy to make connection with "bottoms" bootleggers. Police say they are certain the two men had been engaged in "shaking down" soft drink parlors and bootleg places, extracting a toll from their victims in return for not appearing in court against them.

Persons who have suffered for years with old sores have been simply amazed to find how quickly and completely they have been cured with CORONA Ointment. Read this letter from W. B. Starr, of Dallas, Texas.

"I had a very sore leg, and by doctors to be incurable. They told me to have it cut off. I got a can of Corona and the sore soon healed up and is now sound and well."

Corona is a remedy that is different—it won't hurt the most sensitive skin—it has no equal for soothing pain and helping nature heal sores, bruises, cuts, burns, chapped hands, boils, any flesh wound, eczema, etc.—should be in every home. Talented Reader, Pianist and Composer Coming to City Tuesday

Miss Edna M. Welty, talented pianist, reader and composer, will give her program of music and readings in the First Baptist church next Tuesday evening at 7:45, under the auspices of the Progressive Booster class of the Sunday school. Miss Welty will be remembered as having visited this city during the McKinley revival meetings in this church last November, and delighting the audiences with her music. She also was received with great enthusiasm when she assisted the McKinleys during their two programs at the high school.

During the present season she has been appearing in the northern part of the state where her programs have been well received. Many of the comments upon her work put her program above many of the Lyceum numbers appearing in the places where she has given her program.

Tickets went on sale Thursday night. Mrs. Wilbur Mahin is chairman of the committee arranging the entertainment.

Indiana Roads

Thomas A. Adams, editor of the Vincennes Commercial and chairman of the Indiana newspaper committee on highways, has issued a vigorous appeal to the state legislature for defeat of the plans to budget the state highway commission's funds.

In this he is entirely right. Money is raised by a special tax levy and a gasoline tax for the purpose of maintaining an improving the state highways through the direction of a state highway commission. For each dollar expended in this manner, the federal government provides a fixed sum for road work.

Automobile owners who are taxed for every gallon of gasoline they use expect that the money shall go for good roads. They see no reason for the legislature to dole it out as the legislators see fit when the laws specify that it shall be used on the highways.

The highway department was created by law expressly for the purpose of doing just what it is doing, and why a budget committee should direct how the funds shall be spent, how much the appropriation shall be and how the department shall be administered is beyond the comprehension of the average person.

No one has been able to explain yet the reason for this sudden concern about the highway commission. There is none to object to the legislature inquiring into the way

GIVE YOUR STOMACH A CHANCE

The average person puts into his or her stomach just about twice as much food as the body needs or the stomach can digest. One of two things must happen—either the stomach weakens under the load or it must receive assistance, before it does weaken. Some people take time by the forelock because the stomach generally gives warning that it is being abused. These symptoms are gas, sour stomach, bloating, coated tongue and the like. When these symptoms appear take heed of the warning. Nature doesn't give these warnings unless they mean something. First stop overloading the stomach and secondly go to your druggist and ask for Di-Jo. A few Di-Jo Tablets will give instant relief and enable the digestive juices to do their work. If you insist upon eating what you want, keep yourself supplied with Di-Jo. It will remove part of the load which the digestive forces of the stomach have to carry. If you are troubled with constipation take Di-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

—Advertisement

the money is spent, for the purpose of determining whether economy has been practiced, but it's hard to find any reason for a budget committee attempting to dictate what the state highway commission shall do when the commission is appointed to take charge of the roads.

It is false economy, as Mr. Adams points out, take a step backward, after the progress Indiana has made in road building. The highway department, after thorough investigation, asked for approximately 18 million dollars annually, which could be supplied by an extra cent on gasoline and a 50 per cent increase of license fees, with a fair bus and truck tax.

Mr. Adams says that these fees would raise approximately 15 million dollars annually which, with federal aid, would bring a sum sufficient to build in three years, one thousand miles of additional paved roads, or 350 miles a year, and care for 5,000 miles of unpaved roads. This program would give, he claims, a paved road east and west and north and south through every county in Indiana.

This is what Indiana must have. Over one thousand miles of train to meet the needs of transportation, mail service have been abandoned in the United States since last July and the time will come when even rural mail service will be seriously hampered by the rapidly lessening local mail trains.

The only way this problem can be met is with more and more good roads. A decrease rather than an increase in the state road building program would be a penny-wise, pound-foolish policy. Yet this is what is going to happen if the legislature insists on this budgeting plan.

Tax Reform

Of more than fifty amendments to the constitution pending in congress, six are devoted to the problem of taxing state bonds.

Thus, it appears that leaders in congress are beginning to appreciate that the greatest evil of a taxation system is the tax-free bond which allows wealth to escape its share of the tax burden.

Conservative estimates by financial experts, are that if this loophole were plugged, the taxes of the average man in the United States could be lowered twenty percent.

The proposal to tax state bonds was considered when the present law was passed, but was defeated in the house. If President Coolidge summons congress next September to consider a new tax reduction bill the issue will be squarely before the federal legislators again.

Those opposed to the resolution for such an amendment assert that it would usurp state rights, but this argument is discounted by the fact that the constitution can not be amended without three-fourths of the state concurring, in which case it could be safely said that they did not regard it as depriving them of any of their rights.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Since simplicity and economy have been decreed as the guiding factors in the Coolidge inaugural, historically minded folk have been searching the records to discover just how simple or how ostentatious preceding inaugurations have been.

From the facts disclosed by these quests it seems that the peak of popular acclaim, jubilation and celebration was reached at the inaugurations of George Washington and Theodore Roosevelt.

Washington's first inauguration was on April 30, 1789, in New York. His whole progress from Mt. Vernon to New York, made by carriage and not on horseback, was a colorful pageant lasting through an entire week.

He was accompanied on the successive stages of the journey by relays of colonial dignitaries, as well as by a civil and military escort, and his arrival at each relay point was accompanied by illumination, music, banquets and much speechmaking.

This trip is said to have cost Washington personally about $3000.

In color and hilarity the Roosevelt inauguration, with its delegations of Rough Riders, Indians, soldiers and shouting citizenry, never has been matched.

Estimates placed the number of visitors who saw the Roosevelt inaugural parade at 500,000.

The parade itself took nearly four hours to pass the reviewing stand.

The Coolidge parade will be limited so it can be "reviewed" in about 45 minutes.

THOMAS JEFFERSON was the first of the presidents to take the oath in Washington. Jefferson and Madison were inducted into office inside the incomplete capitol building.

When arrangements were under way for the Monroe inauguration in 1817, the House and Senate couldn't agree on the disposition of seats and finally it was agreed to hold the exercises outdoors where there would be room for every body.

Because of stormy weather, John Quincy Adams and William Howard Taft took the oath inside the capitol. With those two exceptions, all presidents since Monroe have been sworn in in front of the central portico of the capitol.

THE one inauguration which may surpass the coming in inauguration of Coolidge in intentional simplicity and lack of pretension, was that of Jefferson.

Along with the story of Washington and the cherry tree, American schoolboys have been taught how Tom rode alone down to the capitol, hitched his horse to a sapling outside, and then took the oath.

In reality, however, it does not seem to have been quite so simple. Authenticated records of the occasion show that Jefferson was accompanied to the capitol by a considerable company of militiamen, friends and admirers, and that a really respectable gathering was on hand to acclaim the new president.

The record inaugural "rough-house" was staged at the time, Andy Jackson took office.

After the inaugural ceremonies, the White House was thrown open for a reception.

An uncontrollable mob of Jackson boosters surged in, waiters were knocked down, refreshments were spilled, glassware broken and the broad seats of chairs and divans muddled by the boots of the countrymen who climbed upon them to get a better look at "Our Andy."

Shifts in Base Ball Teams

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 27—John McGraw was one of the very few major league managers who thought enough of his last year's team to stick to it for another campaign. There are other teams that haven't been changed, but most of these remain the same because their managers couldn't make the changes they wanted.

Jack Hendricks made several additions to the Cincinnati Reds from the minor leagues, but he failed to get a first baseman to succeed Jack Daubert and he probably will have to go through the season with Rube Bressler, a reformed pitcher, on first base. Bressler is a very good player, however, and he may fill the bill.

The Braves and the Robins made only one minor deal and the Phils failed to do anything to strengthen a notoriously weak team.

The Pirates and the Cubs were well shaken up by a big deal and both clubs may be benefited.

McGraw says that Pittsburgh will give him his hardest fight. He thinks that the Pirates will be improved as a result of the trade with the Chicago Cubs. The Pittsburgh officials were criticized by some very good authorities for parting with Grinn Maranville, and Cooper, but others thought it was a smart move. It must be remembered that some of the best ball players are not assets. There are numerous ways in which they can be a handicap to a team. Some players are disturbers and some are easy-going to the point of being soft.

Maranville and Grinn may be a big asset to the Cubs but they were almost a loss to the Pirates, and Bill McKechnie found the best way to get some one in their places.

Washington made the most lineup changes among the American League teams, and the team should be greatly improved for the race. Dutch Reuther and Stan Coveleskie are not young enough to be sure things, but neither are they too old to be desperate gamblers. Vean Gregg, who comes back from the minor leagues, is a gamble. The return of Walter Johnson to the team was the best piece of luck Bucky Harris had because Sir Walter is almost certain to be a winner for at least two more years. The addition of Mike McNally also ought to be of benefit to the team, as reserve strength was vitally needed. McNally also has the habit of landing on a pennant-winning team.

Liberty at Rushville (2 games) Moscow at Arlington. Manila at Waldron. Brownsburg at Anderson. Columbus at Frankfort. Elwood at Franklin. Franklin at Bloomington. Greenfield at Spiceland. Kokomo at Rochester. Marion at Newcastle. Richmond at Bedford. Shortridge at Connersville. Technical at Martinsville. Versailles at Greensburg.

Tonight is the last Friday night for regular scheduled games. This time next week and the sectionals will be on in full blast.

The drawing for those sectionals will be made in the morning, and announced as quickly as possible. Rushville sectional drawing will be announced in our noon edition Saturday.

High Vandiver, principal of the Martinsville high school, leaves a perfectly good game tonight over in his big gym, where Vincennes is to be entertained, and he comes over here to referee the Liberty-Rushville game. We don't see how he could do it.

LIBERTY OR BUST TONIGHT!

A great many sport writers over the state are talking about the best backguards, and the name of Gill, of Washington and Skinner of Bedford are mentioned frequently. They take the ball off the bank board and are said to be wizzards, but even at that don't forget that Rushville has a back guard named Miller that is no mean performer on that bank board stuff, and he usually makes a pretty getaway with the ball. The thing to do is win the sectional, down Columbus in the regional, and show your stuff in the state tourney.

BEEN SIDETRACKED LONG ENOUGH!

Side Lights over at Connersville says that the Spartans are due to get back on the main line Friday night when they play Shortridge. Wouldn't be a bad idea, and here's hoping you do.

Auburn Another City Successfully Financing a Gymnasium Project

"At this meeting the youngsters appealed to the members of the alumni for assistance in the school effort to secure a gymnasium. Members of the school board present at the banquet informed the audience that with the assistance of the boys and girls and financial aid by the alumni association, it would be possible for the board to build a gymnasium.

"Later, details were worked out and 'gym pledges' solicited from all members of the high school alumni and everybody else in the city. In this way approximately half of the cost of the structure was met.

"We also sold reserved seat season tickets at $5.00 each and raised more than $1,500 in that way.

"Our building outside measurements, is 92 by 122 feet, seats more than 2,000 people, allowing 17 inches seat room per person, and has a playing floor 48 by 80 feet on which we have laid off a court 42 by 72.

BET HE IS GLAD OF IT

Basketball seasons come and basketball seasons go, and here's another one about gone!—Short Passes, Shelbyville.

Here is a Fan-Wanting Some Information

Dear Hittin' 'em—Don't you think it would be a very good idea if the managers of the local high school basketball association would let the fans know just a little about where the money goes that is taken in at the games? Some think there should be a big profit at the end of each season, while others think it is hard to get by on the gate receipts. If we are to have a new gym, is it going to be a paying proposition? Yours, F. A. N.

While probably Mr. Butler will furnish some information asked for above, yet it is a known fact that the proceeds from the games amount to a great deal each year. This money, as Hittin' 'em understands it, goes into the high school athletic association, and the upkeep, repairs, maintenance, lights, heat and the like are paid from that fund at the gym, and is not a part of the school board expenses. In addition to this, the athletic association supports other branches of sport, including baseball and track, and preparations are being made for football next year. These sports are "dead" losses as no money is taken in. Besides the association has paid expenses in contests not associated with sports, such as debating, oratorical and the like. In all, the financial burden has been great, but no doubt Mr. Butler could tell anyone what could be the earning power behind a team.

Another Fellow Has a Place For That New Gym

Speaking of a location for the new gym, how about the Keating place in East Fifth street? There is ample room there and the gym could be made to face either Fourth or Fifth street. It is only a five minute walk from the business district and about the same from the high school building. It would also provide ample parking space.

Yours for a gym to seat 3,000. RBS BOOSTER

We use bleacher style seats with no balcony.

"The building is double brick wall on concrete foundation. The roof is supported by the 'Bowstring Truss' manufactured by McKeown Company of Chicago. This truss will support an unusually large roof without posts in the building and is cheaper than steel. There is nothing in our gymnasium to obstruct the view of the spectators.

"The building is located on a lot adjoining our high school property and within 20 feet of our heating plant. We were thus able to pipe steam from our heating plant to the gymnasium and save the cost of an extra plant for the new building.

"In our opinion a gymnasium built separate from a school building is cheaper, can be made to accommodate more spectators and is more easily managed.

"We expect to construct a movable platform that can be set up in the gymnasium when we wish to use it for community meetings. At such time, with seats placed on the playing floor, the building will easily seat 3,000 people."

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT

K. M. Huddleson Alleges Scores of Defendants May Claim Share in Estate

WANTS RECORDS RECTIFIED

A suit to quiet the title to real estate has been filed in the circuit court, in which K. M. Huddleson is plaintiff and William Morris and a score of others are named defendants. The plaintiff alleges that the title is not clear, and that all of the defendants may claim an interest in it, unless the records are rectified by the courts.

There is little business in court these days, with only the routine of matters coming up, including motions filed in various cases, answers filed and petitions presented in probate and guardianship matters.

A further hearing in the child possession suit of Clyde Merritt against Hazle Merritt is scheduled for Saturday before Judge Lowe of Lawrenceburg, special judge in the case. Sheriff Hunt today was summoning a great many witnesses for the case, and tomorrow will mark the third day of trial in the matter, the third day of trial in the matter, on two former occasions to hear evidence, which was not concluded either time. An effort to finish the case tomorrow will be made.

GLORIFIES MASONRY IN LODGE ADDRESS

nation, Masonry has stood for light against darkness, virtue against vice, freedom against tyranny, liberty against slavery, good against bad, education against ignorance. "Masonry depends for its influence on faith in almighty God and its capacity to teach men the great principles of life."

The speaker discussed the change in Masonry from the operative to the speculative. He said the first grand lodge of Masons was established in London in 1717 and is the mother of all lodges now in existence. The lodge began taking in honorary members, who came in time to be called speculative Masons, until now there is only one lodge of operative Masons in the world.

Judge Robinson described the background influenced by Masonry that Washington found when he grew to manhood, and said that the first president was deeply influenced by Masonry all during his life. It was introduced into the United States in 1830, two years before Washington's birth.

The speaker pointed to some of the leaders of revolutionary days who were Masons, including the following: Paul Revere, John Paul Jones, Patrick Henry, William Daves, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton, Robert Livingston, John Hancock; also 59 out of 60 brigadier generals under Washington and 21 of the 29 major generals under Washington.

"Things did not happen so," he commented. "Washington saw to it that men in responsible positions were Masons because he could trust them."

Judge Robinson pointed out that governors of the thirteen original states were Masons and that 52 of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence were Masons. It was written on a Masonic apron, the written on a Masonic apron, the speaker said.

Judge Robinson spoke of Lafayette's relation to Masonry and the sequel to his part in the Revolution when Gen. Pershing, also a Mason, laid a wreath on Lafayette's tomb with the words, "Lafayette we are here."

"It was largely through him whose birthday we celebrate that the constitutional convention was held," the speaker continued. "Out of the 555 delegates to the convention, 50

88 PERCENT OF COLLEGE STUDENTS UN-CHRISTIAN

Prof. Hartman of Chicago University States Students Lose Faith Before Entering College

AGE LIMIT IS LOWERING

(By United Press)
Chicago, Feb. 27—Eighty percent of the students entering College are un-Christian, Professor Hartman of the University of Chicago, declared in a speech here in defense of the charge that college and university men have abandoned their faith.

"It is not the colleges and universities which upset the faith of students," Prof. Hartman declared. "Their faith is upset before they enter college."

"Investigation of the freshmen, revealed that eighty percent of the young men entering college gave up religion before entering college."

"The age limit is constantly lowering and we must begin to surround our youths with right association and give them right ideals if we would insure their self control."

Much of the fault lies with ministers who fail to keep pace with the changing needs of the times, Prof. Hartman said.

were Masons. It didn't just happen that way. The people wanted a government founded on the principles of Masonry.

"Washington was largely instrumental in writing the constitution because he presided over every session. Today it is a living institution, not an abstract document with signatures attached."

In closing, Judge Robinson referred to the guarantees of the constitution and showed how Masonry made its influence felt in the writing of the American Magna Charta.

COOLIDGE PREPARES SPEECH

Using Care in Selecting Topics for Inaugural Address

Washington, Feb. 27—The senate Coolidge is drafting his inaugural address with greatest care, with the aim of making it his best state paper.

The president's goal is conciseness without sacrificing comprehensiveness. He has taken for an example the second inaugural address of Grover Cleveland which did not exceed two thousand words.

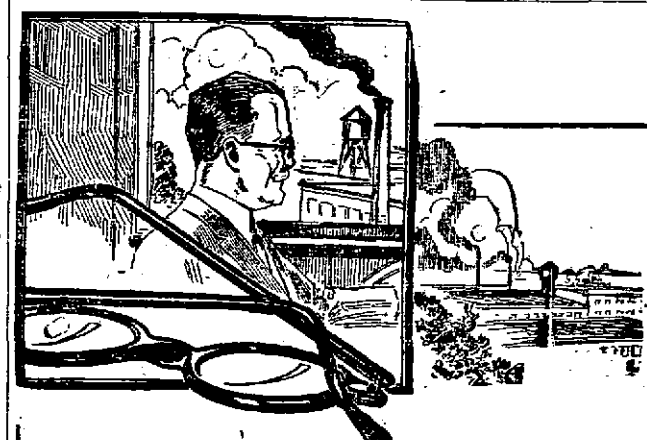

No definite word has come from his study as to what the document will contain, though it has been reliably reported that his main pre-occupation will be foreign affairs, which the president has singled out for principal attention during his administration. Farm relief also will be a topic.

LIVES IN GING NEIGHBORHOOD

John R. Reese, one of the 103 students on the Purdue university honor roll, was said in a dispatch from Lafayette appearing in the Daily Republican, to live in Manila, but instead his home is in the Ging neighborhood and his address is Rushville, R. R. 7. The other Rush county student on the honor roll was Wallace Beer of this city.

If your liver and stomach are in an unhealthy condition you can not have a sunny disposition because they affect the brain as well as the entire system. May's Wonderful Remedy has been usually successful in such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach is to try this remedy. "The Alaskan," At Princess

Superb horsemanship alone made possible one of the most beautiful scenes in Thomas Meighan's latest picture "The Alaskan."

Under the direction of Herbert Brenon, who produced this James Oliver Curwood story for Paramount, Meighan posed on a narrow point of cliff. Horse and man were silhouetted against the sky. Below the crumpling ledge on which they stood was a sheer declivity of more than one thousand feet. In the background was the finest range of snow-clad peaks to be found in the entire Alaskan peninsula.

Following the "shot," Meighan turned slowly, mounted his horse and rode off the ledge. The dangerous moment followed the instant he swung his foot into the saddle. The horse, already nervous from gazing into the void, reared, sending a shower of stones over the edge. Urged by hand and voice, the animal dropped and then sprang away from the brink of the cliff.

While this scene, so beautiful in its effect, but so dangerous in reality, was being filmed, Estelle Taylor, John Sainpolis, Charles Ogle, Frank Campana and Anna May Wong, who head the supporting cast, watched Meighan from an adjoining ledge on the cliff where the cameras were perched.

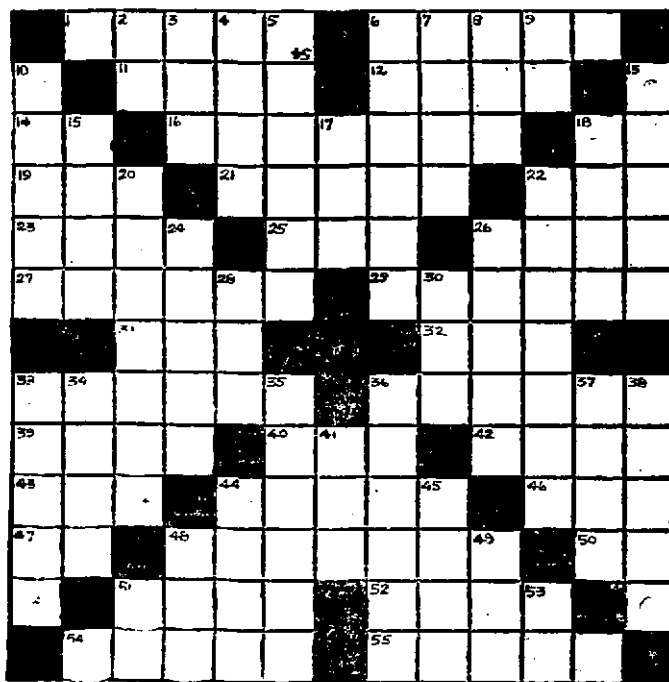

"The Alaskan" will be the feature film at the Princess theatre for two days beginning today.

Greensburg—"All the damages that foxes in the community would do in forty years would not equal the waste involved in one fox drive," George H. Mannfield, director of the fish and game division of the state department of conservation declared in a speech here.

ANACONDA FERTILIZER

Factory-mixed Fertilizer is too high in price.

It is, on an average of common brands, about $13 a ton too high.

You can save this amount, and maybe more, depending on proportions, by Home-Mixing your own Fertilizer.

We will sell you the raw materials—Phosphate, Ammonia and Potash, at prices which will let you make this saving.

Anyone can mix Fertilizer—it takes no skill. It was done last Fall in 35 Indiana Counties.

The Anaconda Plan has come to stay. It has no other object than to bring Fertilizer close to the Farm, and cut out needless freights and handlings.
